the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million (1990-2000) (ONS 2001).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the health care needs of the elderly population. The Department of Health (2000) has set out a strategy for the NHS to meet the needs of the elderly population. This strategy is based on the following principles:

- To ensure that the NHS is able to meet the needs of the elderly population.
- To ensure that the NHS is able to provide a high quality of care for the elderly population.
- To ensure that the NHS is able to provide a range of services to meet the needs of the elderly population.

The NHS is currently facing a number of challenges in meeting these principles. These challenges are:

- The increasing number of people aged 65 and over.
- The increasing number of people aged 65 and over who are in poor health.
- The increasing number of people aged 65 and over who are in long-term care.
